

GIVE is a partnership between:

GIVE (Growing Inclusivity for Vibrant Engagement) is a free online guide that supports anyone teaching in inclusion settings in the creation of liberated learning environments and vibrant arts experiences.

Teachers can use Teach with GIVE to:

- Ensure classrooms are safe and supportive environments for all.
- Plan effectively across students' social-emotional, cognitive, physical, and behavioral capacities.
- Differentiate arts instruction in lesson design, facilitation, and implementation.
- Incorporate formative assessments that support student engagement and informed lesson design and goal setting for students.

What teachers say about Teach with GIVE

- “The resources help you quickly ensure that your lessons are inclusive.”
- “Everyone needs to have this resource and should be incorporating these resources/approaches into their teaching no matter what environment they are in. It will help us all become better teachers and best serve any student!”
- “The resources appear to be very natural fits to our classrooms. I don't find it intimidating; I find it inspiring and a great way to get more creative and keep things fresh.”

Teach with GIVE website

The screenshot shows the homepage of the GIVE website. At the top left is the GIVE logo. To its right are navigation links: "Browse Resources" with a dropdown arrow, a search bar with the text "Search Resources" and a magnifying glass icon, "About GIVE" with a dropdown arrow, and "English" with a dropdown arrow. The main heading is "GIVE: Your Guide to Teaching Artistry in Inclusive Settings". Below this is a paragraph: "Free online resources created by Teaching Artists for Teaching Artists working in Integrated Co-Teaching (ICT) Classrooms in New York City and beyond." There is a search bar with the text "Explore All Resources..." and a magnifying glass icon. Below that is a section titled "Not sure where to start? Try these common searches..." with four buttons: "Remote Learning", "Inclusive Language Guide", "Classroom & Behavior Management", and "All Resources". A large circular image on the right shows a teacher in a blue shirt standing in a classroom, pointing at a whiteboard, with a smaller circular inset showing students at a table.

Try out Teach with GIVE

Choose a challenge then use TeachwithGIVE.org to try to find something that might apply:

1. A teacher is struggling to use inclusive language - can you point them towards an Inclusive Language Guide?
2. A teacher needs to support their students by providing visuals for their art form - can you point them towards Visual Vocabulary?
3. A teacher could use some strategies to support their students with disabilities - can you find a resource to point them towards for that?

When you find something applicable put it into the chat.
