

OPENARTS

Don't Throw Away Your Shot

Book, Music, and Lyrics by Larry Siegel

Bring this fun musical to your school today!

Programming is free and provided by the CDC Foundation

Cover artwork by Amélie Kaufman, 11th Gr. LaGuardia High School for the Performing Arts

An award-winning musical with the goal of empowering students to be future vaccine decision-makers by encouraging them to have conversations, ask the right questions, speak to trusted mentors and adults, and build confidence in the vaccination process.

Made possible through one of only 30 grants nationwide from the CDC Foundation and developed in partnership with students, teachers, administrators, PTAs, community health officials.

Don't Throw Away Your Shot is approximately 30 minutes in length, and is offered with a follow-up interactive workshop.

6th Grade Teacher

"I loved it, grooved to the beats and walked out of the theater singing the theme song! My students are going to love it too, and the positive message is so important."

8th Grade Student

"Their performances were good and their voices were amazing! It was really fun and it shared an impactful message that many kids should hear."

Available both in-person in New York City and the surrounding areas and virtually nationwide, don't miss the opportunity to bring this presentation to your school or community group!

Interested in bringing this musical to your organization?

RSVP / INFO pamela@singforhope.org or singforhope.org